

Are you looking for a partner for your methane project?

What We Do

At Climate Neutral Group, we are engaged in a range of initiatives that promote sustainability and advance global carbon reduction goals. We:

- Develop carbon projects that promote renewable energy sources through carbon mechanisms
- Support carbon offsetting and sequestration projects around the world
- Trade carbon assets

One of our key focus areas is reducing methane emissions. We recognise the urgency and are committed to providing high-quality carbon project development solutions to corporations and investors for deployment in the Voluntary Carbon Market. With Turkey as a main location, we also developed multiple projects focusing on reducing methane emissions in e.g. Bangladesh, South Africa and India. Examples are biogas, biomass (composting) and landfill gas (LFG) projects.

With over two decades of experience in carbon assets, we are now looking to expand our presence in Turkey with a highly skilled and experienced team dedicated to the development of Voluntary Carbon Projects.

Our Mission

Driving a positive impact on the environment through innovative carbon asset and project development solutions, by helping clients unlock the full potential of the carbon market.

Way of Working

Our comprehensive services cover the origination, management and commercialisation of carbon projects. We focus on maximising returns for our clients while promoting sustainable practices also.

The core of our approach is to create long-term partnerships, where both parties assume risk and benefit from success. We are prepared to take risks and invest in the development and marketing costs. We believe working together is the most effective way to ensure high-quality project development and carbon credits for our clients.

We have global access to a buyer portfolio that includes companies committed to achieving net zero emissions. This allows us to offer competitive conditions and customised business models that meet your unique requirements while maximising the impact of the carbon assets on your investments.

We also understand the value of flexibility and are open to exploring new and innovative ways to collaborate with our clients and achieve our shared goals.
